Community Forums Added - posted 06/20/07

We've now added links to local community forums---we've posted them on the right side of this Home Page below "Important Dates".

The only ones we're aware of right now are for the Bluff Park community and the Shades Mountain community. Families are busier than ever, and these forums are great places to share information. The al.com Hoover Forum is another great place to share ideas and ask questions.

If your local Hoover community has set up a forum to exchange ideas, and you'd like us to post a link, please let us know at HSCIN@HSCIN.org.

Thanks to the Survey Respondent who suggested this.

Berry Property Has Interested Buyer - posted 06/20/07

At Tuesday night's Shades Mountain Town Hall meeting, Superintendent Andy Craig indicated that he is currently in discussion with a potential buyer for the former Berry Middle School property on Columbiana Road. He also stated that if this sale does not come to pass, the most likely direction for the Board to take will be to actively market the property in order to sell it. However, he did state that if the property could not be sold at a fair price, that the Board would look at potential uses for the building.

Survey - Tell Us How We're Doing - posted 06/15/07

Please take a moment to tell us what you think of the Hoover School Community Information Network. Our mission is to inform and engage the Hoover community in discussions about our school district and school reform in an effort to maintain excellence in our public school system. We'd like to know how well we're following that mission, and also how we can better serve our Hoover School Community. We appreciate your honest responses. This survey opportunity will be available through June 28, 2007.
